Annual Review System

How the automated yearly review calls will work

Prototype overview · 19 October 2026

Built in GoHighLevel with an AI voice agent. All data in the prototype is fake.

SECTION 1

The big picture

Every client has a yearly review. The system books it, reminds them by email, calls them on the day, records their answers, and hands everything to the team to check. Once the team signs it off, next year's review books itself.

Step	What happens
1. Booked	Each client is booked into the review calendar at a set time.
2. Confirmed	They get a booking confirmation email, then reminder emails. No texts.
3. Called	On the day, at the booked time, the calendar triggers the AI agent to call them.
4. Recorded	The agent asks the review questions, confirms the answers, and saves a summary.
5. Sorted	The pipeline moves the client to the right stage automatically.
6. Checked	A team member reads every result. Nothing is final until a person has checked it.
7. Rebooked	The team member moves them to Yearly Review Complete, and next year's review books itself one year from the call date.

SECTION 2

Calendars

Two calendars. Both run Monday to Friday, 9am to 5pm, UK time.

Calendar	What it is for
Annual Review Calls	Every client's review slot. A booking here is what triggers the AI call on the day. Synced with Outlook.
Review Callback	For clients who would rather speak to a person. They pick a time from a link we email them.

SECTION 3

Emails

Clients are contacted by email only. They don't get texts from a mobile number.

- Booking confirmation: sent as soon as the review is booked.
- Reminders: 7 days before and 1 day before the call.
- After the call: a booking link, if they wanted another time or a person.
- Replies are monitored: if a client replies to say they can't make it, the team is told and the call is held until someone checks.
- Volume: GoHighLevel email sending, with a working figure of around 1,500 emails a day. That comfortably covers 100 calls a day.
- Summary to Enver: after every call, the results are emailed to the adviser and the team inbox.

SECTION 4

The AI agent

A professional, polite voice agent that only asks and records.

It does

- Checks it's speaking to the right person, then runs a quick security check.
- Asks if now is a good time to do the review.
- Asks the 10 review questions, one at a time.
- Reads the answers back once to confirm them.
- Saves every answer, a summary and the outcome to the client's record.

It never

- Gives advice, opinions, figures or product information.
- Gives out any information held about the client.
- Promises changes or moves money.
- Strays off the review.
- Leaves review details on a voicemail.

Clients have signed to agree to AI calls, so the agent doesn't open with an AI or recording disclosure.

SECTION 5

Call scenarios

What the agent does in each situation.

Situation	What the agent does
Happy to go ahead	Runs the full review, confirms the answers, and closes politely.
Busy right now	Prompts towards a rebook. A link is emailed so they can choose a new time.
Wants a person	Fine. A link to the Review Callback calendar is emailed to them.
Doesn't want a review	Accepts it politely and doesn't push. The adviser is told.
Upset, bereaved or vulnerable	Slows down, stops the questions, and hands straight to the team.
Complaint, or wants advice or a change	Notes it and hands it to the team.
Someone else answers	Asks for a better time. Says nothing else.
Fails the security check	Ends politely. The team is told.
No answer or voicemail	Leaves a short message only. Tries again up to 3 times, then hands to the team.

SECTION 6

Pipeline: Annual Reviews

Every client sits in one stage. Stages move automatically after each call, except the last one.

Stage	What it means
Review Scheduled	Booked in, waiting for the call.
Calling	The agent is calling now.
No Answer - Retrying	Didn't answer. Another attempt is booked (up to 3).
Callback Booked	Wants a person or another time, or replied to the email to rearrange.
Review Done - Awaiting Check	Review completed. A team member needs to check it.
Handover to Management	Needs a person: vulnerable, complaint, advice, failed checks, or 3 missed calls.
Declined Review	Didn't want a review this year, or wrong number.
Yearly Review Complete	Moved by hand after a team member checks it. This books next year's review.

SECTION 7

Workflows

Five workflows run the whole system.

A. Review call

Starts when: the client's review time arrives on the Annual Review Calls calendar.

- Checks it's a weekday between 9am and 5pm.
- Moves the client to Calling.
- Tells the AI agent to call them.

B. Call result

Starts when: the call ends.

- Saves today as the Review Date.
- Moves the client to the right pipeline stage based on the outcome.
- Emails the results to the adviser and the team.
- Emails a booking link if they wanted another time or a person.
- Books another attempt if there was no answer.

C. Yearly rebook

Starts when: a team member moves the client to Yearly Review Complete.

- Books next year's review exactly one year from the Review Date, at the same time.
- Moves it to the next working day if it lands on a weekend or bank holiday.
- Clears this year's answers and puts the client back to Review Scheduled.

D. Confirmations and reminders

Starts when: a review is booked.

- Sends the booking confirmation email.
- Sends reminder emails 7 days and 1 day before.
- Stops if the booking is cancelled or moved.

E. Email replies

Starts when: a client replies to any email.

- Alerts the team to read it.
- If they say they can't make it, holds the call and moves them to Callback Booked.

SECTION 8

Human check and the yearly rebook

- The system is fully automatic, but every result is checked by a person.
- Only a team member can move a client to Yearly Review Complete.
- The next review is always one year from the call date, not from when the client was moved. If the team moves them two weeks later, next year's date doesn't change.

SECTION 9

Options for later

- Live transfer: if a client wants to speak to someone there and then, during working hours, and someone is free, the agent could put them straight through. Otherwise they get the booking link.
- Real data: import Enver's real client list from their current software.
- Real questions: swap the 10 test questions for Enver's own.
- Scale: designed for many calls a day (100+), with many calls running at once.

SECTION 10

Prototype status

Item	Status
Agent script and 10 test questions	Written
Pipeline, fields, calendars, workflows	Designed, ready to build
Fake test clients	Ready
GoHighLevel sub-account	Waiting to be created
Real questions, client data, email domain	Needed from Enver later
